

Dillon's Restaurant

Back Bay Boston, MA

PAF has served the Glynn Hospitality Group on a number of projects. Many of their restaurants, including Dillon's, are located in historic districts or other contextually sensitive areas.

This project entailed interior renovations and designing and overseeing the construction of a raised structural patio. The patio had to be suspended over existing structures and a transportation right-of-way.

Because of the historic district a key goal also was to integrate the new elements with the historic building.

PAF also steered the project through the many Boston permitting and oversight departments and commissions.

Throughout, PAF also utilized our capability to model the space to communicate the design to the client prior to execution, and for use in public presentations.

Aerial View

Street View

Patio View